INTRODUCTION

Why I wrote this companion guide to Paranormal Texas

While researching haunted sites for Paranormal Texas, I found it impossible to keep track of all the ghost hunting teams in the Dallas – Fort Worth region. My quest for a concise list of active paranormal groups in north Texas left me empty-handed. I kept finding dead ends, abandoned websites, and ghost hunting groups that no longer existed. Plus, acronyms like NTPI, NPTRT, NPTP, and TPI made it downright confusing.

I originally planned to include the North Texas Paranormal Resource Guide as a section of the book Paranormal Texas. However, with more and more ghost hunting teams, haunted history tours, and paranormal expos springing up, it made sense to create a separate resource, one that can be updated periodically.

Listings are NOT Endorsements

While I have taken some of the haunted history tours and personally dealt with a few of the paranormal groups mentioned here, I want to stress that these listings do not represent a personal endorsement by me.

When it comes to paranormal investigations, there are many different approaches. Some ghost hunting teams rely heavily on scientific instruments to gather data. Others are more informal. Take time to choose a team that fits your particular needs and expectations.

The same goes for haunted history tours. Some are led by history buffs who thoroughly research their topic. Others are more fun than factual.

Please be aware that the descriptions for each group were not written by me. They are, instead, brief excerpts from each group's website. This allows you to get a feel for that particular paranormal team or haunted history tour before you contact them.

The North Texas Paranormal Resource Guide is divided into two sections. Part One is an alphabetical listing of north Texas ghost hunting teams. Each listing includes the name of the group, the year it was founded, its email, and a brief excerpt from the team's website. Part Two lists haunted history tours, and is alphabetically arranged by city.

Did I miss anything?

My goal for the North Texas Paranormal Resource Guide is to provide helpful information and save you time. While I have done my best to include every ghost hunting team and haunted history tour currently available in north Texas, I probably missed a few.

If you know of any groups, tours or other goodies (such as paranormal expos and meet-ups) that should be added, please send an email to tuisnider@gmail.com with the subject "Paranormal Resource Guide," and I will include that info in the next edition.

In the meantime, happy ghost hunting!

A recent study has been conducted and the result was that 98% of these experiences can be explained... Yet, what accounts for the remaining 2%? There are still mysteries that are not yet solved...We are here to find the truth and help those who need answers to unexplained events happening around them."

ASUP:
Association of the Study of Unexplained Phenomenon

Location: Rockwall, Texas

Founded: 1973

Email: None listed, but website has a contact form.

Website: <http://www.asupinc.org/>

In their words: "A 501 (c) (3), Non-Profit, tax exempt Paranormal Research and Educational Corporation with its headquarters in Rockwall, Texas.

Our mission is to research and study all paranormal phenomenon in the pursuit of possible proof of individual survival of human personality after death and to help support the efforts of similar organizations to that end and to educate the public as to those findings.

Our founder, Rick Moran started this organization over 38 years ago. ASUP, Inc. starting with cases that include Amityville and Mothman and now covering about 30 cases a year. ASUP, Inc. is an official TAPS Family Member."

Beck's Everyday Ghost Hunters

Location: Lake Dallas, Texas

Founded: 2012

Email: becksghosthunters@yahoo.com

Website: <http://www.becksghosthunters.com/>

In their words: "About me.....I lost my grandfather when I was 17. I had a VERY difficult time getting over it. I just needed to know that I could still communicate with him. I loved him so much I didn't think I could live without him. I read everything I could get my hands on that had to do with the "afterlife" and that started it all...the love of Ghost Hunting and the Paranormal.

I am now a Certified Paranormal Investigator and have my own Paranormal Group. I have been researching the paranormal for over 30 years!! It is my way of staying in touch with my grandfather.

Being a Ghost Hunter is not always as exciting as it seems on TV. Many nights I have sat in the dark and not a thing happened. BUT it is those times you DO get that one voice, that one unexplainable picture or have an experience that sends chills down your back that makes it sooo worth it all!!! My purpose is not to make people believe in ghosts but maybe to open their minds just a little bit... I LOVE this crazy thing called Ghost Hunting. It is as much a part of me as breathing. I am just a girl that refuses to accept we can't still contact our loved ones after they die. My grandfather won't let me."

CPI: Credible Paranormal Investigators

Location: Dallas – Fort Worth, Texas

Founded:

Email: credibleparanormal@yahoo.com

Website: <http://www.credibleparanormal.com/>

In their words: “So what gives us the right to call ourselves "credible" over all of the other "hunters" that are in operation today? The answer is simple. The mainstream paranormal community is largely focused on proving the existence of ghosts over all other types of paranormal subject matter. This mission is one-sided, unprofessional, and unrealistic.

Instead, we concentrate on proving whether the phenomena attributed to them exists or not. This quality gives us the right to call ourselves "credible"

That being said, we at Credible Paranormal believe that strange things do exist in our world, and our mission is to provide evidence of such in a manner that benefits the client, as well as earns us a level of respect from the mainstream scientific community.

We strive to identify paranormal phenomena without assigning them to any cause beyond our personal scientific understanding. That will be the job of the greater minds with bigger budgets than we have. But we can provide justification for the pursuit. That is the mission of Credible Paranormal.”

We also strive to further the field of paranormal research by validating phenomenon through the use of data collection by use of photography, audio, video, as well as other acceptable methods in the field.

NTPI:

North Texas Paranormal Investigations

Location: Plano, Texas

Founded:

Email: Not listed, but there's a contact form on the website.

Website: <http://www.northtexasparanormal.com/>

In their words: NTPI has been conducting paranormal research for over ten years in the DFW area. We are skeptics. We look for any and all logical explanations for activity before considering the paranormal. We use scientific equipment to help us locate and document paranormal activity. We also are believers. We have all had personal experiences that we truly believe to be paranormal, and we keep an open mind on all investigations.

All investigations are done free of charge.

We typically conduct investigations on Friday or Saturday nights; in emergency situations we can respond within 48 hours.

We will travel almost anywhere! If for some reason we can't make it to your location, we may refer you to a paranormal group in your area.

Duration: 2 to 6 hours

Set Up time: about 30 minutes

Team members: 3 to 5 depending on size of location

Evidence review time: about 1 week

What we'll need from you: a 'tour' of the active areas and a brief description of your experiences.

We investigate at night with the lights out – not to be creepy – so we can use our infrared video and still cameras to capture evidence.

We may need to turn off your A/C or heat to cut down on noise for EVP sessions.

We prefer to investigate with as few people present as possible; this is to create a controlled environment to avoid contaminating evidence. Certain cases may require affected family members to be present, but generally we prefer an empty location.

PLEASE NOTE: We always want one member of a household or business to be present somewhere at the location with us for your and our peace of mind.”

NTPT:

North Texas Paranormal Trackers

Location: North Texas

Founded: 2010

Email: susani74@aol.com

Website: <http://www.northtxparanormaltrackers.com/>

In their words: North Tx. Paranormal Trackers, "N.T.P.T." was founded by Susan Dunlap-Irvin in 2010. After studying and investigating the paranormal field for 20 yrs. she wanted to build her own team that would go out to historical sites that had never been investigated before, popular sites known for paranormal activity as well as private residential investigations.

She has mediumship skills that allow her to communicate with the spirits and help them if needed. She brought on Leslie Alford as her lead investigator/medium. Leslie's passion for the paranormal has been with her since she was a young child. Leslie has constantly questioned and has educated herself about the paranormal and brings her mediumship skills to the team.

That is what they are now doing. They are receiving requests for investigations in the surrounding Dallas-Ft.

Worth area as well as smaller towns such as Ennis, Weatherford and Mineral Wells just to name a few. They know no limit, where there is a request there will be an investigation.

Before an investigation, extensive research is done and during the process they learn the history of not only the location but the town as well in which they are investigating which opens up other doors for more investigations in places that have never been investigated before but have been experiencing paranormal activity for years and now is their opportunity to have their story told.

We believe in "unity within the community" which in the paranormal field means we are all reaching for the same goals.

One thing we have always done is respect the client's wishes when it comes to investigations. We always reveal our evidence to the client first. If there is something they do not want released we respect that request and keep it on their private file. If there is anything else you would like to know please contact us.

This acclaimed walking tour is the only tour that gives you access to enter and explore one of Dallas' oldest and most haunted buildings.”

Denton:

Ghosts of Denton Haunted History Tour

Website: <http://www.ghostsofdenton.com/>

In their words: “The city of Denton, and the county surrounding it, has fascinating history. It also has more than its fair share of ghostly stories. The town of Denton had 14 major fires on the square during the period between 1860 and 1895. During those fires, early records of the county were lost and perhaps that is why the spirits linger ... they just want someone to remember. Maybe, or it could be that they just like the night life in Denton!

Shelly Tucker, a professional storyteller for 27 years, has dedicated herself to unearthing these tales to share them with you in an entertaining evening of spine-tingling storytelling. Formerly of Denton Haunts, Shelly created her own venue to be able to give you the best entertainment experience she can offer. She has gained a following of fans who have joined her more than once to hear the tales ...

especially because she is constantly adding new stories and never has time to tell them all in one night!

The walking tour is approximately 90 minutes, and most of it revolves around the square, although on some nights there are a few stops that are about two blocks away. Tour participants should wear comfortable shoes and weather appropriate clothing. In summer, it's a good idea to bring a bottle of water (or grab an iced coffee at Jupiter House Coffee, where the tour meets!) to stay hydrated.”

The tour is led by a Certified Parapsychologist with over 20 years of investigating the paranormal. Most of the buildings in the Stockyards have been investigated by Paula personally."
